Methodologies

Methodologies	Description
Guest lecture / keynote speech	Explanation by the teacher of the contents of the subject in the classroom. It will be supplemented by visual support materials -Presentations PowerPoint, and projections of ethnographic films. The aim of these sessions will be the knowledge by the student, techniques and ethnographic methods and analysis of cultural discourse, profits and applicability; and encourage participatory debates. Students must attend at least 2/3 of the sessions.

Directed discussion	Comment and discussion during the second part of each session of textual materials -scientific papers, book chapters, concerning the details, problems and practical application of different techniques with ethnographic research utility. The objective of the discussion will be the development by students of a critical capacity and awareness of cultural diversity and the recognition of the complexity of socio-cultural problems and the need to adapt the tools of ethnographic research to specific case studies .
Supervised projects	It is conceived as a practical test that will be conducted over the course. It will consist of course work developed by practicing or multisituated participant observation, semi-structured interviews, analysis of a case of popular narrative, and / or testing the registration and 'technical' interpretation of a life story. Its objective is the development, by students, of knowledges and skills in basic projection of ethnographic research, in the use of fieldwork techniques, and exercises on the ground in critically evaluate the knowledge, techniques and information available to solve problems with which they must deal.

Personalized attention

Methodologies	Description
Guest lecture / keynote speech Supervised projects	Personal attention is held individually in supervised practice (supervised work) and tutorials on theoretical contents when the learning process and the problems raised by the practice so require. Also part of the keynote sessions will be channeled towards personalized discussion of specific issues raised in the topics discussed when the occasion requires. For students with part-time dedication and academic waiver of exemption from attendance recognition, specific tutorials to assist -compatible with their dedication- will be agreed at the beginning of the course

Assessment

Methodologies	Competencies / Results	Description	Qualification
Guest lecture / keynote speech	A12 A16 A27 B20	Active and participative assistance to the course sessions will be valued. Students must attend at least 2/3 of sessions. 10% of the grade.	10
Supervised projects	A26 A27 C6	An individual course work (semi-structured interview, analyze a case of popular narrative, and / or recording and rehearsing 'technical' interpretation of a life story) will be evaluated. This work accounts for 60% of the grade.	40
Directed discussion	B9 B27	Evaluation criteria will be active participation in the preparation and presentation of texts about ethnographic methodology applied to specific case studies and in the ensuing discussion of such materials in the class sessions. Individual assessment of this methodology will be a 30% of the grade.	50

Assessment comments

For the evaluation of the 2nd chance, completion of supervised work - or its extensión- is required.

Students with part-time dedication and academic waiver of exemption from attendance recognition will follow the same criteria of evaluation for the 1st time that for remaining students, except that, for the former wont be applied the first criterion - active and participatory assistance-, and its percentage of assessment (10%) will be distributed equally between the other two criteria ("directed discussion" will be 55%, and "protected work" 45%). For its part, it will be determined dates for these students with waiver to attend, to present and discuss their respective texts on specific ethnographic methodology.

For the evaluation of the 2nd chance, exempt from assistance students must submit a comment valued on a text of ethnographic methodology, as well as mentored work - or the extension of the same.
