Methodologies
Methodologies	Description
Supervised projects	The students will develop a work that will be supervised by the teacher and, therefore, will have tutorial support. There will be small groups of students (70% of the final grade). The objective of the work is the application of the concepts and fundamentals that are explained in class and the basic structure will be related to the order and structure of the topics that are explained throughout the course. The teacher will gradually supervise and supervise the group so that the group can gradually develop the work as the topic develops. In this way, an interactive teaching, practice and active student participation is achieved throughout the learning process. The delivery of the work is scheduled for the last week of the school period, although it will be adjusted to the student's time availability.
Multiple-choice questions	Individual multiple answer test (30% of the final grade). Each poorly answered question penalizes the test score (three poorly answered questions counter correct one) and no question can be left blank.
Events academic / information	The students must also attend complementary activities of a practical nature (conferences, seminars, workshops or similar) in order to learn practical cases presented by their protagonists; also in a group, the contents of said activities should be analyzed and this analysis should be reflected in the corresponding works that will be subject to evaluation.
Guest lecture / keynote speech	Explanation of the contents of the theoretical program of the subject through the oral presentation, guided by the use of presentations, through audiovisual media. The slides will be delivered to the students.

Personalized attention
Methodologies	Description

Guest lecture / keynote speech	The different members of the group will be able to consult the doubts corresponding to the development of the practical cases / readings that they must present or expose.
Multiple-choice questions	Similarly, if you have any questions about the material explained in class, you can consult with the teacher in your office or set another time to clarify doubts and facilitate student follow-up.
