Assessment comments

1. Non-presented grade: it is assigned to a student when he/she participated in lower than 20% of assessment activities, regardless of obtained grade.
2. Second opportunity and advanced opportunity: in the second opportunity, students who failed in the first opportunity (January, in the case of students of the double degree in Business and Law, June in the case of students of the degree in Business) have to do the exam in the date established. The grades of the rest of activities will be saved and it is not possible the development of them out of the quarter of class. The exam will mark the 50% of the final note.
In the advanced opportunity, the evaluation system of the first opportunity will be maintained.
3. Students with recognition of part-time and academic dispensation of attended exemption: Both part-time and full-time students will have the same evaluation system.
4. About the conditions of final evaluation: It is recalled that any student stunned when he/she is doing continuous assessment activities and/or examen by means of any fraudulent procedure, the grade of zero will be assigned in such activity (in all opportunities).
5. Student's identification: student has to prove his/her personality according to the current regulation.
6. Other
evaluation observations: Lecturers will make available students the norms for the development of the activities proposed in the present teaching guide. In the first opportunity, objective test can be developed as a single global objective test or various tests. Students are in the continuous assessment and, therefore, in the previous assessment framework, if they done more than 20% of the activities.
Therefore, if these students does not get 5 points (out of 10 points), they will be failed in the acts. For the calculation of the final average grade, a minimum grade of 4 points out of 10 points in the global objective test, or when applicable in the average grade of the various tests, will be necessary (average grade will not be calculated for students who have a grade lower than that). In order to pass the subject, final weighted average grade has to be equal or greater than 5 points out of 10 points.
