Assessment comments

A) EVALUATION

NORMS

Conditions of final evaluation : Accusing the continuous activities exercises/exam with devices that allow communication with the outside or that stock information is not allowed. If a student is surprised by developing the continuous activities exercises/exam by means of any fraudulent procedure, the grade of such a continuous activity/exam will be cero in all opportunities.

Student identification : Student has to accredit his/her identity in accordance with the current regulation.

B) TYPES OF GRADING

Non-presented grading : when the student participated in less than 20% of the continuous assessment activities, regardless the obtained grade. Part time students : Both part time and full time students are subject to the same evaluation system.

C) SECOND AND ADVANCED EVALUATION OPPORTUNITIES

Second and advanced opportunity : In the second opportunity, students who failed in the first opportunity, will be able to develop continuous assessment activities, in addition to the exam. For it, they will put in contact with his/her lecturer far enough in advance in order to plan the development of these activities. In the advanced opportunity, the evaluation criterion of the first opportunity is maintained. D) OTHER

EVALUATION NORMS : The lecturers will make available the norms for the development of the proposed works in this teaching guide to students. To pass the subject, the final weighted average grade must be equal to or greater than 5 points out of 10, but is an essential requirement to obtain 4 points out of 10 in the objective test. If this minimum is not reached in such as test, the subject will be suspended. It is considered that a student is within the continuous evaluation and, therefore, the previous evaluation scheme will be applied to him/her, if he/she completed more than 20% of the works of the subject. If such as student does not appear for the objective test, he/she will be a grade of cero.
