Methodologies

Methodologies	Description
Document analysis	Use of relevant electronic and/or bibliographic documents with activities specifically designed for their analysis
Directed discussion	Group dynamics technique in which members of a group discuss a topic freely, informally and spontaneously, although they may be coordinated by a moderator.

Case study	Preparation and resolution of practical cases, as well as comments on the Jurisprudence submitted to the student's consideration. Methodology where the subject faces the description of a specific situation that poses a problem that must be understood, valued and resolved by a group of people, through a discussion process. The student is faced with a specific problem (case), which describes a real professional life situation, and must be able to analyze a series of facts, referring to a particular field of knowledge or action, to reach a conclusion. reasoned decision through a discussion process in small working groups.
Oral presentation	Intervention inherent to the teaching-learning processes based on verbal presentation through which students and teachers interact in an orderly manner, raising questions, making clarifications and exposing topics, works, concepts, facts or principles in a dynamic way.
Objective test	Written test used for the evaluation of learning, whose distinctive feature is the possibility of determining if the answers given are correct or not. It constitutes a measurement instrument, rigorously elaborated, that allows to evaluate knowledge, abilities, skills, performance, aptitudes, attitudes, intelligence, etc. It is applicable to both diagnostic, formative and summative assessment. The objective test can combine different types of questions: multiple-choice, ordering, short-answer, discrimination, completion, and/or association questions. It can also be built with only one type of any of these questions.
Guest lecture / keynote speech	Oral presentation complemented by the use of audiovisual media and the introduction of some questions addressed to students, in order to transmit knowledge and facilitate learning. The master class is also known as "conference", "expository method" or "master lesson". This last modality is usually reserved for a special type of lesson given by a teacher on special occasions, with a content that supposes an original elaboration and based on the almost exclusive use of the word as a means of transmitting information to the audience.
Student portfolio	It is a folder or filing cabinet that contains - duly identified - the records or materials resulting from the learning activities carried out by the student in a period of time, with the comments and grades assigned by the teacher, which allows visualizing the progress from the student. The portfolio or folder - for the purposes of this subject - includes all the documents or files that must be delivered by the student for their score as "work" or "practices" whether they consist of research papers, case studies, summaries, tests written, self-evaluations, tasks developed, etc.

Assessment comments

1) The objective test will be an oral or written exam, in any of its modalities (test, development, theoretical-practical or a combination of these), consisting of two different parts and scored on 5 points each: one dedicated to Corporate Law; and another, Cooperative Law. And, to pass the subject, it will be necessary to pass the 5 in the sum of the two parts of which it is composed.

2) The objective test represents 70% of the assessment of the subject and the practical classes and the rest of the methodologies the remaining 30%.

3) In the extraordinary calls, the evaluation will be carried out exclusively on the basis of the answers given to the questions raised in the corresponding objective tests.

4) Students are reminded that class attendance is mandatory, so that this allows the possibility of linking the assessment of the practices to be delivered to the participatory attendance in the corresponding class.

5) The delivery of the practices, documents or files prepared by the students (and which will integrate their individual portfolios) will be done exclusively through Moodle and within the deadlines set for each of them.

6) Joint test: The option of taking a joint test is considered for those exceptional cases that did not allow the completion of the work related to the program (students with part-time dedication and academic dispensation of attendance exemption). This test will consist of a practical part and a theoretical part, all of this on a grade of 10. The test will be held on the date approved for this purpose by the center. It will be an essential requirement to notify the teacher sufficiently in advance of the option for this system and to justify the alleged reasons

7) In accordance with article 11, section 4 b), of the UDC Student Disciplinary Regulations, students who commit fraud or plagiarism will have their grade suspended in the session in which the offense is committed and with respect to the matter in which it was committed. The student will be graded as "failed" (numerical grade 0) in the corresponding call for the academic year, whether the offense is committed on the first opportunity or on the second. To do this, he will proceed to modify his qualification in the first opportunity report if necessary.
