General description	Study of the connections between literatures written in English and other forms of artistic expression (such as painting, theatre, television, cinema, etc) in Anglophone contexts. Analysis of the differences and thematic and aesthetic similarities; study of distinguishing features, possibilities and limitations of the different languages employed; examples of cross-disciplinary influences, via context-sensitive case-studies in the English-speaking world. This subject wants to address with special emphasis how its contents are applied to professional fields such cultural criticism or cultural management. To do so, the subject will provide the student with specific and suitable critical terminology and will guide the student to the acquisition of good communicative skills on critically reviewing the related field.

Study programme competences

Code	Study programme competences
A10	E10 ?Ability to use appropriate techniques for the analysis of artistic and cultural texts in the English-speaking domain.
A12	E12 ? Understanding of different theoretical and critical approaches, as well as their application to the analysis of literary and cultural texts in the English-speaking domain.
A13	E13 ? Familiarity with the relationship between the main artistic and literary manifestations in the English-speaking domain.
B1	CB6 ? Students should have the knowledge and understanding necessary to provide a basis or opportunity for originality in the development and/or application of ideas, often in a research context.
B3	CB8 - Students must be able to integrate knowledge and to deal with the complexity of judgement formulation starting with information, which might be incomplete or limited, and which includes reflections on social and ethical responsibilities linked to the application of their knowledge and judgement.
B4	CB9 ? Students must be able to communicate their conclusions, as well as the knowledge and reasoning behind them, to both specialized and general audiences in a clear and unambiguous way
B5	CB10 ? Students should have the necessary learning skills to allow them to continue studying in a largely autonomous manner.
B6	G01 ?The capacity to delve into those concepts, principles, theories or models related with the different fields of English Studies is a necessary skill, as is the ability to solve specific problems in a particular field of study via appropriate methodology.
B7	G02 ? Students must be capable of applying the knowledge acquired in the multidisciplinary and multifaceted area of English Studies
B8	G03 ? An efficient use of new information technology and communication in English Studies is a necessary skill.
B9	G04 ? Students must be able to publicly present their ideas, reports or experiences, as well as give informed opinions based on criteria, external norms or personal reflection. All of this implies having sufficient command of both oral and written academic and scientific language
B10	G05 ? Skills related to research and the handling of new knowledge and information in the context of English Studies are to be acquired by students
B11	G06 ? Students should be able to develop a critical sense in order to assess the relevance of both existing research in the fields of English Studies, and their own research.

B12	G07 ?Linguistic competence (C2 level) in oral and written English must be developed and consolidated.
B13	G08 ? Students should become progressively autonomous in the learning process, and in the search for appropriate resources and information, via the use of bibliographic and documentary sources related to English Studies.
B14	G09 ? Students are expected to be able to carry out research projects of an academic nature in the different fields of English Studies
B15	G10 ? The ability to present and defend a research project using adequate terminology and resources appropriate to the field of study is a skill which should be acquired.

Methodologies
Methodologies	Description
Workshop	Class time will be used for the initial presentation of basic concepts and, mainly, for the analysis and debate of the previously assigned readings and viewings.
ICT practicals	Each student is responsible for familiarizing herself / himself with the assigned material--available at Moodle--and for being prepared for in-class debate and discussion.
Supervised projects	Each student will complete a final project which might consist of a critical analysis or a literature review.

Personalized attention
Methodologies	Description
Supervised projects	The teacher is available to supervise each student's work throughout the entire course.

Assessment
Methodologies	Competencies	Description	Qualification
Supervised projects	A10 A12 A13 B1 B3 B4 B5 B6 B7 B9 B10 B11 B12 B13 B14 B15	Two different options are available for this final, individual project: 1. Writing a literature review on the field / genre / analytical tool of ekphrasis. 2. Writing a conference paper on the ekphrastic connection between, for example, a novel and a painting, or using ekphrasis as an analytical tool to promote a critical analysis of a specific text. Either option should be 8-10 pages long and double-spaced, use 12 Times New Roman and conform to the MLA style of citation. This project is due on the official date set for the final exam.	50
Workshop	A13 A12 B4 B6 B9 B11 B12	Active participation in and contribution to every class discussion, debate or activity will be taken into account. Hence, preparation of the material assigned prior to class is essential. Students can also expect to be asked to guide class discussion on previously selected literary texts and visual art, as well as to present to the class on critical articles. The dates of both these activities will be decided with the students at the beginning of this subject.	50

Assessment comments

A "Non presentado" (Absent) grade will be obtained for not doing the supervised project and/or not completing 50% (or more) of the coursework. The second (July) opportunity of assessment will consist of two parts: 1) the supervised project (with identical format and criteria as in the first opportunity), which will be worth 50% of the grade; 2) the assignments that will compensate for missed or failed classwork, and which will be worth 50% of the grade. Depending on which assignments need to be made up, specific instructions on topics and assignments will be given. Students who must make up for all of this section (i.e., 50% of their grade) will turn in a review and a literary analysis. Both will be due by 14.00 h. on the official final exam date. Given that this is a blended learning course, attendance is mandatory, except when the student has been granted exemption by the master's Academic University Committee. Nonetheless, attendance regulations from the three participating universities must be observed, as well as the assessment regulations stated in the courses' Teaching Guides, and notwithstanding the consequences that absence from specific sessions might have for final assessment. Students who have been granted exemption, as specified in the university regulations, will be assessed according to the criteria applied in the July opportunity. Students sitting the December exam (final exam brought forward) will be assessed according to the criteria specified for the July opportunity. Plagiarism will mean a grade of "zero" in the plagiarized assignment. Instructors may use the plagiarism-detection service "Turnitin" to check students' work. Every assignment must be turned in in time and in the specified format in order to avoid being penalized 25% of the grade in the assignment.
