Methodologies
Methodologies	Description
Introductory activities	At the beginning of each topic will identify the main objectives that are intended to be achieved, the logical sequence that will be followed in the presentation of contents, the prior knowledge recommended to facilitate the learning process and the specific bibliography. In the case of online students, they will have both the presentations of the subject and the audio and video files with the explanations of each of the topics. The interaction in this case will be either by the Teams app, by phone or by mail or especially through periodic contacts via Teams and skype.

Guest lecture /	Every week in class, the subject will be explained, using audiovisual media and documentary sources as support. In these keynote speech	sessions the active participation of students will be necessary to facilitate the teaching-learning process. In the case of online students, they will have both the presentations of the subject and the audio and video files with the explanations of each of the topics. They will also have access to explanations by Teams, by telephone, as by mail or especially through periodic contacts via skype.
Document analysis	From the subject's agenda, audiovisual or bibliographic material will be provided as a reference for developing some basic questions that the student must resolve in order to deliver to the teacher Case study	One of the objectives of the subject is the elaboration of a critical analysis of an economic policy proposal, specifically the long-term plans proposed for Spain (2020) using the methodology and concepts explained in the subject. With regard to the study of legal issues, it will be accompanied by the analysis of case studies relating to the interpretation of rules which in some cases will be through comments on case-law as well as the drafting of documents specific to the administrative procedure applied to the tourist field. All these activities will be tutored directly in the face-to-face classes or through the indicated means (mail, telephone, teams or skype) in the case of online students.
Workshop	In the practical classes, under the supervision of the teacher and using the aforementioned methodologies (readings, analysis of documentary sources, discussions) the student must perform a series of practical exercises. The monitoring of the tasks will be both face-to-face and by the means indicated in the remote option.

Personalized attention
Methodologies	Description
Guest lecture /	Both the theoretical part of the subject and the practice and, especially, the case study within the latter, will be complemented keynote speech	with personalized attention from the students' consultations, providing guidance and support in the learning process, as well as Document analysis	motivating the expansion of knowledge following the interests. This activity will be performed in person (in the teacher's
Workshop	tutoring hours) and in the workshop classes themselves or in a non-in-person way (via Teams app, email, by telephone or Introductory activities	skype).

Document analysis	t analysis A1 A11 A2 A4 A5 B5 Throughout the course, a variety of work topics will be proposed that stu		25

Workshop A1 A11 A2 A3 A4 A5		In the practical classes, under the supervision of the teacher and using the	50

Case study	A1 A11 A2 A3 A4 A5	One of the objectives of the subject is to acquire basic knowledge on Economy of the	25
	B3 B5 B4 B6 B9 B11	Tourism Sector, in particular the knowledge of the Spanish and Galician economic
	C1 C5 C7 C6 C8	reality and its critical study both in the legal and economic aspect. In this sense, exercises will be proposed to analyse recent data on these realities.

Assessment comments

The subject has both a theoretical and practical character. Evaluation system The evaluation will be carried out through a set of commentary exercises, data analysis and case studies carried out individually by students in which the knowledge of the subject is put into practice. In this sense, a continuous evaluation can be considered, as the tasks carried out will be monitored periodically to comment on progress and difficulties. In the case of face-to-face students, this follow-up will be carried out directly in the workshops where the contact will be continuous. In the case of distance students, the work is of an individual nature, but the follow-up will be done through a weekly contact, both by phone and skype, where progress and interests and doubts can be raised.
