General description	The course is meant to familiarize second-year students with the History of Western Art from Ancient Greece until the 20th century, and to develop students? understanding of the social, symbolic and aesthetic significance of art in specific historical contexts.

Contingency plan	In the case of exceptional circumstances caused by the Covid 19 pandemic that may disrupt face-to-face lectures, teaching will move online. Learning platforms provided by the University will be used (Moodle and Teams), as well as the institutional email. 1. Modifications to the contents - No changes will be made 2. Methodologies *Teaching methodologies that are maintained - Masterclass (Teams) - Supervised projects (Teams) - Oral presentation (Teams) - Personalized attention (Teams) *Teaching methodologies that are modified If health's exceptional measures cancel personal presence of students and teacher in the classes and exams, methodologies described will follow the established contingency plan, based on virtual attendance (Microsoft Teams, Moodle, e-mail) 3. Mechanisms for personalized attention to students -Email: Daily use to make consultations, request virtual tutorials and to solve doubts. -Moodle: Daily use to download documents about the presentations and delivering both individual and group work. Also, power points about lectures can be downloaded. -Teams: for scheduled tutorials and lectures. 4. Modifications in the evaluation Final exam online (Microsoft Teams and Forms): The test will consist of multiple-choice questions. Students will have 10 minutes to complete 20 questions. This test will be valued with 60% of the Final Grade. *Evaluation observations: The July opportunity will follow the same criteria as the first opportunity. IMPORTANT: All students must have been academically assessed in all of the examined elements (continuous assessment and final exam), to pass the course. 5. Modifications to the bibliography or webgraphy No changes will be made. Those texts or other material, whose knowledge is essential to pass the subject, will be uploaded to the institutional file exchange media.
